RAILROAD TRAIN STRIKES BUGGY

Accident at Guldens when Afternoon
Passenger Train Demolishes Buggy and Injures Jacob Sterner.
Did not See or Hear Train.

The train on the Western Maryland, leaving Gettysburg at 12:55 Friday afternoon, struck the buggy at Jacob Sterner, near Guldens Station, cutting Mr. Sterner, wrecking the buggy and slightly injuring the horse. The heavy rain is said to have been in part responsible for Mr. Sterner not seeing or hearing the approaching train.

He is employed on the George Osborne farm, not far from Guldens, and was returning home when he came to the crossing below the station. The train had not stopped for Guldens and was traveling at good speed. Several trees and a shallow cut partly hid the view of the track and the dampness prevented Mr. Sterner hearing the approaching engine.

He drove right onto the track immediately in front of the locomotive and the horse just cleared the rails when the engine struck the buggy. Mr. Sterner was thrown out, his face and head cut by the engine and by falling on the rough ground. He was taken to New Oxford where his wounds were dressed by Dr. J. L. Sheeiz. Later he was removed to his home at Sugartown.

The engineer stopped the train as soon as possible, when he saw the accident was unavoidable and, after hearing the extent of the victim's injuries, proceeded on his way.

BUCHANAN VALLEY

Buchanan Valley—A. W. Cole and brother, John F. Cole, have finished packing their apples, and the people generally are through.

Francis Kimple has been quite busy making cider.

Eugene McDermitt, of Oxford, will spend a few weeks among relatives and friends in the Valley.

Among those who attended Farmers' Day in Gettysburg were Theodore Kimple Sr. and son, Francis A., and daughter, Miss Jennie, F. J. Steinberger and wife, Jacob Brady and wife, George Beck and wife, Francis Clapsdell, Mrs. A. W. Cole and daughter, Miss Ruth, and Miss Sara C. Stahle.

Norman Knouse has returned from Virginia, where he was engaged in apple packing.

Squirrels are plentiful this fall, and, although the farmers are exceedingly busy with corn and apples, they find time to shoot the squirrels, especially on rainy days.

Several farmers have killed hogs. Meat has been scarce in the Valley this season.

Mrs. William Taylor moved to near Virginia Mills on Thursday last, from John Dillon's tenant house.

ERECTING LARGE MEMORIAL PORCH

Historic Old Seminary Building to be Beautified by Erection of Colonial
Porch in Commemoration of Great Peace Jubilee.

In commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, and the great Peace Jubilee at Gettysburg in July, a handsome portico is being erected on the west side of the historic old Seminary building.

The porch will open out from the main floor and will be colonial in design. It will be semi-circular with a diameter of twenty six feet, one story in height with a roof. The steps and floor will be of concrete and the balance of the structure of wood. J. A. Dempwolf, of York, is the architect and the portico will conform to the general style of architecture of the fine old building.

The cupola which was destroyed by fire during the summer will soon be rebuilt, the mill work for this portion of the structure now being made. The completion of these changes will add much to the beauty of the edifice which has always attracted much attention from visitors.

In addition to these improvements the Seminary is having laid a four hundred foot concrete walk at the side of West Confederate avenue, from the main building to Springs avenue, connecting at the northern end with a similar walk joining the old building with the refectory.

CAUGHT IN FALL ON HIGH BRIDGE

Roy Harrigan, of Gettysburg, Put off
Railroad Train, Starts to Walk over Reading Bridge at Harrisburg. Has Narrow Escape.

Because he had no railroad ticket Roy Harrigan, of Gettysburg, was put off a Philadelphia and Reading passenger train in the vicinity of White Hill, one night this week, and the man started to walk back to the Capitol City from whence he started. Harrigan told the conductor that he had purchased a ticket but must have lost it.

As he was passing over the Reading bridge that crosses the river he got too near the edge of the bridge and would have fallen into the river, if Railroad Officer Grimm had not been present and caught hold of him. The bridge is the highest about Harrisburg and the long fall into the Susquehanna would have been almost sure to prove fatal.

Harrigan was taken before Alderman Windsor and fined $5 for trespassing on railroad property and while hunting through his pocket-book for the fine he found his ticket.

THREE INSANE

Religious Revival Has Unusual Effect in Chambersburg

Three Chambersburg citizens have lost their reason during the big revival being conducted in that town. Two are under observation at their homes while the third became so violent that he was taken to the Asylum at Harrisburg. He is Charles Fletcher, a married man, 45 years of age.

He had never shown any sign of dementia and was a man of normal mentality and health. When the Biedersdorf evangelistic meetings started he attended and each day became more and more agitated. Then he seemed to lose his reason. He would lie awake all night preaching and telling how great a man Biedersdorf was, how he (Fletcher) was not worthy to kiss his shoes, and similar things. Then he got the idea that a sacrifice must be made and ordered his wife and children to prepare to be crucified. He even got nails, an old tie and a hammer for the actual work.

The climax came some days ago when he flagged a Cumberland Valley Railroad freight train in Chambersburg yards and ordered the crew to dismount and be crucified, and it was with difficulty that he could be quieted. He raves steadily and unceasingly about his sin and his need to make sacrifice before he can be saved. Physicians see no hope for him and to protect the community from his determination to make sacrifice he had to be incarcerated.

The meetings have resulted in about one thousand conversions to date.

ARE MARKING LINCOLN WAY

Route Across the Country will be Marked Completely Next Friday.
Comes through Gettysburg No
Celebration Here.

The route of the Lincoln Highway through Gettysburg will be marked, without a break, from New York to San Francisco by the night of Friday, October 31, when the dedication celebrations are to be held across the country. Some of the states, particularly in the west, have already completed the work. The official copyrighted marker of the association is 21 inches high, comprising a strip of red three inches wide, a band of white 16 inches wide, and a strip of blue three inches wide below. On the white band is the large letter "L" with the word "Lincoln" above and "Highway" below.

In many of the cities the route is marked today. In Philadelphia the Philadelphia Trade Association is marking the route from one end of the city to the other. In Omaha all the signs are up as they are in Clifton, Iowa, and a dozen other parts. The markers are now being placed across the state of Nevada and in Utah, Illinois and other states the work is progressing rapidly. In Nebraska, H. E. Fredrickson, state consul, reports that about two thirds of the old Overland Trail has been marked and that the balance will soon be completed.

The various state consuls report an ever increasing interest in the sale of contributor's certificates. Not only owners of automobiles but persons in every walk of life are subscribing $5 or more to the fund which will within a short time result in the constructing of a lasting, nation-wide memorial to Lincoln.

Gettysburg is one of the few places of importance along the route of the new Lincoln Highway which has not arranged a celebration for the night of October 31. The Halloween festivities here will, it is feared, overshadow everything else and a Lincoln celebration would be impossible. However, on November 19, special exercises will be held in Walter's Theatre in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of Lincoln's Address and there will be reference to the highway plan at that time.

DEMONSTRATIONS

State Experts will Begin Tour First Week in November.

Arrangements have now been made in the office of the economic zoologist to have these demonstrations given by the trained inspectors who have for some years been engaged in demonstrating and inspecting in orchards in the state of Pennsylvania. Dates have been arranged for the various orchard demonstrations, and these will be announced in the press and also by large posters in public places in the vicinity of the various orchards.

Thieves broke into the "Mount Forest Inn", a cottage at Pen Mar, belonging to Mrs. Belle Stoler, belonging to Mrs. Belle Stoler, Wayneboro, and ransacked the building. Entrance was effected through a second-story window over the kitchen. The intruders reached the window by placing several blocks of wood upon each other. When they got on the inside they turned on the electric lights and when they went away left them burning. One of the residents of Pen Mar Park happening to be passing the cottage, noticed the kitchen door open and lights burning and notified Mr. Stoler at Wayneboro.

GAGE TO EUROPE IN MEXICAN CRISIS

U. S. Will Brook No Interference in Mexico.

ARE PROTECTING GEN. DIAZ

President is Considering Statement Objecting to Foreign Warships in Mexican Waters.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Developments of a few hours in the relations between the United States and Mexico emphasized a gravity of affairs more ominous than at any time since President Wilson's administration began. Absolute silence was the order in official quarters.

The release of the Ward Line steamship Morro Castle, detained at Vera Cruz, after peremptory demand by the United States, terminated one delicate situation. Orders were in preparation to the commanders of the American warships lying off Vera Cruz, to insist on her release.

A statement was in preparation by Secretary of State Bryan and John Bassett Moore, counselor of the State Department, which Secretary Bryan brought to the White House for the President's approval. No intimation as to its contents was revealed, but there was every reason to believe that before many hours had passed a notice by the United States that it would not brook European interference in Mexico by the warships dispatched to Mexican waters by the various foreign governments, would be proclaimed.

It is understood also that the United States, by that same statement, will reiterate the American policy that only governments founded on constitutional law and order will be recognized in the Western Hemisphere.

The British Foreign Office, through the embassy officially denied to the State Department the authenticity of the much-discussed published interview with Sir Lionel Carden, the British Minister at Mexico City, which represented the Ambassador as unsympathetic with the policy of the United States.

The gravity of the situation, it was apparent, would be increased by Felix Diaz taking refuge in the American Consulate at Vera Cruz. The possibility that the Huerta authorities might demand his release and provoke another emergency was fully realized.

At the State Department it was said, though no instructions had been given to W. W. Canada, the United States consul at Vera Cruz, to afford an asylum to Diaz, Canada's general instructions were such that he could take in Diaz if it seemed necessary.

Although in international law, the American Consulate has not extra-territorial rights, it was pointed out that morally the Mexican authorities would have no right to invade the American precincts to arrest Diaz.

Nine battleships of the Atlantic fleet sailed from Hampton Roads for their long-projected Mediterranean cruise, according to the original plans. They will be in communication with the powerful wireless station here at least until next Thursday. It was stated officially that they sail without any orders except to proceed to their Mediterranean destination.

WON'T MOLEST DIAZ. HE SAYS

Mexican Foreign Minister Declares Presidential Aspirant is Safe

Mexico City, Oct. 25.—There is no intention on the part of the Government to molest General Felix Diaz, who is a Presidential aspirant, according to Minister for Foreign Affairs Madero.

Senor Madero said that Diaz was at liberty to come to the capital when he chose.

Not only Diaz but all other Presidential candidates have received the assurance on behalf of Huerta that they will have every guarantee of freedom from molestation during the elections next Sunday.

In a statement to the press, it is said that Huerta has learned that in some of the Mexican States his friends purpose to support him for the Presidency. This calls forth the following official statement:

"The Government cannot prevent the Provisional President's friends supporting him, owing to the lack of time to do so before the elections are held, but while the Provisional President appreciates the attitude of his friends he declares once for all that he cannot accept votes, and if through them he should be elected President such an election would have no effect, as it would be contrary to the Constitution."

Weigard, 41 years old, in a chair, with bullet wounds in the head. A shotgun lay on the floor with one load discharged. A deputy coroner rendered a verdict of accidental death.

BIG MORTGAGE PLANNED BY P. R. R.

May be Greatest Piece of Financing in Country's History.

MAY EXCEED A BILLION

It Will Be Made the Basis of Company's Financial Needs for Many Years to Come.

Philadelphia, Oct. 25.—Preliminary notice of what will unquestionably prove to be the greatest piece of financing ever undertaken by an American corporation was made by Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Reports that the company contemplated a billion dollar mortgage are borne out in so far as Mr. Rea says that the management is considering the creation of a general mortgage as a basis for the corporation's financing for many years to come.

The statement read: "Under this mortgage it is contemplated to issue bonds in such amounts from time to time as may be required to provide necessary additions, betterments and improvements to its railroads, equipment, property and facilities; the funds that may be necessary to meet maturing obligations, and for such other corporate purposes as may now or hereafter be duly authorized by law. The aggregate amount of bonds that may be issued shall not at any time exceed the outstanding capital stock."

"When approved by the directors, the whole question will be laid before the stockholders for their consideration at the annual meeting in March. The company has no expenditures that require immediate financing, but desires to announce the contemplated preparations for the necessary refunding and capital expenditures in 1914, 1915, and later years, which it will be able to meet through the issue of either capital stock, consolidated (first) mortgage bonds, or such other form of financing as will produce the best results for the company and meet the monetary conditions prevailing at the time of issue."

The authorized capital stock of the company is $600,000,000, of which $493,880,800 is outstanding. The railroad's funded debt amounts to $214,000,000, and that of the Pennsylvania Company, which operates all the lines west of Pittsburgh, is $130,000,000. Of the funded debt not quite $90,000,000 matures in the next two years, and the remainder for the most part has a considerable time to run.

Improvements and betterments which the company has in view will call for the expenditure of millions of dollars. Electrification of its lines will be begun soon.

It is to be in a position to meet the demands created by these improvements that the mortgage will be created. It is believed by the financial community. Although apparently limited to the amount of outstanding capital stock, $600,000,000, the bond issue under the mortgage is practically unlimited except by the amount to which the capital stock may be increased at any time by the directors with the ratification of the stockholders.

RESCUERS KILLED IN MINE

Two Workers in Dawson Disaster Raise Helms and Are Suffocated

Dawson, N. M., Oct. 25.—The death list of the Stag Canon Mine disaster, where 229 men are still entombed, following the explosion of Wednesday was swollen by two, when two rescue workers deep in the shaft, raised their air helmets and were suffocated. Twenty-three miners have been taken out of the mine alive, and thirty-eight have been recovered.

None of the rescued can throw light upon the cause of the explosion or the location of the miners yet entombed. With the exception of Jose Fernandez, the miner taken alive from the sixth chamber east, none of the rescued men was working near the section of the mine, where the explosion occurred.

Although they are making less return during the molting period than any other, the hens should have the best possible care, for it is a season of restoration and rejuvenation, in the beginning of which at least the physical tone is apt to be low.

One who has tried it recommends a mixture of ten pounds of bicarbonate of soda and a bushel of sawdust or sand as an excellent material for extinguishing a blaze of gasoline. In this connection it is well to remember that water simply scatters a gasoline blaze but will not put it out.
